

All Eight Now for Tener--Horse Show Opens To-day

TENER HAS SUPPORT OF ALL CLUB OWNERS

Ebbets, Back From Columbus, Says There's No Opposition to the Governor.

STATEMENT FROM BAKER

Coming National League President Doesn't Own a Share of Philadelphia Stock.

There were new developments yesterday indicating further that Gov. John K. Tener of Pennsylvania will be elected president of the National League when the annual meeting is held at the Waldorf-Astoria on December 9. C. H. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn club, who returned here yesterday from the major league convocation in Columbus, Ohio, consented to be quoted by THE SUN in this manner:

"Yes, I have seen Mr. Herrmann, Mr. Dreyfuss and Mr. Ebbets in Columbus relative to Gov. Tener's candidacy. I also have conferred with Messrs. Baker, Gaffney and Murphy regarding this matter, and I feel at liberty to say that all of the eight club presidents, including Mr. Herrmann, who is the only one I haven't talked with, are in favor of Gov. Tener's election to the presidency of the National League."

"I do not think it is wise, however, to discuss this matter further in the newspapers until we have conferred with Mr. Tener directly. I have been unable to find Mr. Baker to-day so that I cannot tell him the result of the conference in Columbus. But I probably will meet him either tonight or some time tomorrow."

Ebbets said that he made several deals for new players in Columbus, but that as the papers had not been filed, the names would be withheld for a few days.

The plan to elect Gov. Tener, therefore, is rapidly nearing completion. The rumor that one of the club owners had declined giving his consent to the Governor's election because of the belief that the latter is a stockholder in the Philadelphia club was repeated to President W. F. Baker of the Quakers yesterday, who at once entered an emphatic denial. "Gov. Tener doesn't own a share of stock directly," he said. "He never suggested to help the late W. H. Locke to purchase the Philadelphia club from Charles E. Tarr. The club held its annual meeting in Camden, N. J., yesterday, and the entire stock was voted by Frederick Chandler and myself. We decided to relinquish our incorporation papers in New Jersey and voted to incorporate under a new name, the Philadelphia National League Ball Company, incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania. The old officers were re-elected. Mr. Ebbets of the Brooklyn club has been talking over Gov. Tener's candidacy with Mr. Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh and Mr. Herrmann of Cincinnati, and I expect to hear from him some time tomorrow. Gov. Tener's election cannot fail. As I have told THE SUN before, we have enough votes now to elect him but we are waiting to hear from Mr. Ebbets' arrangements will be made to send a committee of club owners to Harrisburg next week to ask Gov. Tener to accept the nomination. Mr. Ebbets is highly gratified over the fact that Ban Johnson and the entire American League are in favor of Gov. Tener's election. President Johnson of the Boston Nationals, when asked yesterday what he thought of the Tender campaign, replied:

"Gov. Tener will be elected president of the league on the first ballot. There can be no other result. No club owner can afford to oppose his candidacy. There will be something definite on this line next week."

When the stockholders of the Newark club held their annual meeting on Monday to elect officers, C. H. Ebbets will disclose an offer for his holdings made by William McGill, a nephew of the late Pittsburgh Phil. McGill, who was the most successful plunger on the American turf. When Pittsburgh Phil died he left a small fortune to McGill. The latter, after being graduated from Princeton, became the late plunger's betting commissioner and confidential man. McGill retired from the turf after his uncle's death and purchased the Denver club of the Western League.

Last summer McGill and his partner and manager, Jack Hendricks, decided to come East. They made an unsuccessful offer for the Indianapolis franchise, but the club several weeks ago. In Columbus the other day McGill met Ebbets and declared that he would like to buy a controlling interest in the club. Ebbets offered to sell 352 shares of 400 in order to protect the interests of the McKeevers, Medius and Solomon, who are his partners. Ebbets named what he termed a liberal price for these shares, but McGill said he would only accept a controlling interest.

When the International League holds its annual meeting here next month, President Barrow will unfold a plan for interleague games with the American Association. Barrow and McGill discussed the matter at Columbus on Wednesday. Two propositions were advanced, one to curtail the regular schedule in each circuit to 124 games, to be followed by an interleague schedule of 42 games, and the other to arrange a post-season series between the first teams together with games between the other teams as they finished in order, the two tailenders to meet for the cellar title. The idea has been copied from that originated by Herrmann, who still advocates an interleague schedule between the major circuits.

Coches Wins in Last Minute.

In a bitterly fought New York State League basketball game at the Clermont avenue rink, Brooklyn, yesterday, the team from that city defeated Brooklyn 21 to 19. The Brooklyn five held the lead at 12 to 9 at the close of the first half. The lead changed often in the first period, the visitors gaining the honors as they outplayed the home team. In the second half, the two tailenders met for the cellar title. The idea has been copied from that originated by Herrmann, who still advocates an interleague schedule between the major circuits.

Demarest Off His Game.

Calvin Demarest played away below form last night at Daly's in practice for his challenge match with Hoppe on Monday. In a 300 point affair against Lowenthal his average was only a shade over 12. In the afternoon against Ed Cardine he did better, and had to in order to win. The score was 300 to 215, Demarest averaging 22-1-13 and his opponent 16-7-13.

No Firsts for Commercial.

The swimming team of the High School of Commerce of Manhattan defeated the Commercial High team of Brooklyn yesterday at the West 58th street baths in the first dual meet for the B. S. A. 10 championship. The score was 45 to 8. One of the oddities of the meet was that the Commercial team members failed to win a first place.

Fraternity to Take Care of Needy Ones

THE needy ball player need not worry. David L. Fultz, president of the Baseball Players Fraternity, announced yesterday that the organization would look out for him. Fultz spoke of the possibility that players who have refused to sign contracts until the fraternity demands have been acted upon may be compelled to sign for the reason that they are without funds and need advances. "The character of the present day baseball player," said Fultz, "makes such a situation uncommon, but if it should happen that some of the players should need help the fraternity will look out for them."

McGraw Sulks; Giants Lose.

Scrappy Manager Fails to Appear—Promme Stomped.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The Giants lost their first game in San Francisco today by a score of 2 to 1. It was a battle royal until the last inning, when the White Sox stomped Promme and got the winning hit and run off of Tressau.

John McGraw did not see the slaughter. He was still in the sulks over the row with Empire Klem yesterday. When McGraw did not appear at the game the report started that Klem would be fired. The National Commission has the last guess: the chances are that Klem will remain.

The game was a corker up to the sixth inning, when Hal Chase dropped a throw at first for the third out. This seemed to rattle Leverenz and two singles went for one run followed. In the ninth, with Joe Benz pitching, Doyle got his base on balls. Two singles brought him home. Franz Scherzer, who had been doubled and Schaefer struck out. Speaker scored on Hal's walk, and when Evans hit safe Chase came home. Tressau was called on, but Schalk hit the second ball, a home run, and the game was won. The score:

McGraw Loses Costs of Suit.

Defendant Says He Was Induced to Play Poker While Intoxicated.

City Court Justice McAvoy dismissed yesterday for lack of prosecution a suit brought by John J. McGraw against a man whose name appears both as John A. Bennett and John A. Bennett. The suit was for $25,000, and because of McGraw's failure to push the case he will have to pay $22.65 costs.

The defendant denied that he had given McGraw a promissory note for value. He said that between December 1, 1910, and January 1, 1911, he met McGraw in a New York hotel and remained with him several hours. McGraw, he said, became very much under the influence of liquor, although McGraw and one Brandt Walker, who was with them, drank but little.

The defendant said that McGraw and Walker then proposed playing a gambling game known as "poker," although they knew he was mentally unfit to know what he was doing. McGraw and Walker took him to another hotel, where a woman entered the party and took a "bad" at them at the game. Bennett says that McGraw told him he owed $1,200 for his losses. He drew a check for the amount, but stopped payment the next day. Later he gave McGraw his note for the money.

REAL CLAYTON BOBS UP.

Noted Jockey Is Living in Vancouver and May Ride Abroad.

A week ago a negro, who said he was Louis Clayton, a famous jockey, was sent to Sing Sing for robbing a dress-making establishment in this city. It appears now that the negro was an impostor, for the real Clayton has bobbed up in Vancouver, B. C., where he has been a patron of the races for some time. In a letter to a friend Clayton says that he has been living in Vancouver since 1900 and is enjoying prosperity. He has received an offer to go to Europe and join the riding colony there and may accept, as he still is able to ride under 115 pounds. He was informed recently of the conviction of the negro who had the same name when placed under arrest in this city.

Tigers Sleep in Greenwich.

GREENWICH, Conn., Nov. 14.—The entire football team of Princeton, numbering forty, will remain in this town overnight at the Greenwich Country Club. They arrived at 5 o'clock this evening and will leave at 10:11 A. M. tomorrow on a special train for New Haven, where they will meet Yale on the gridiron in the afternoon.

Shoot Tie Score, but Lose Match.

Although the Eastern District team tied the De Witt marksmen yesterday at 254 points apiece in a Whitney Trophy snipe target match the latter got the credit of winning by a score of 12 to 10. The match was shot on the Eastern range and two of the Easterners handed in cards of 3. The P. S. A. L. rules that in case of a tie the team making the most "birds" wins.

Veterans Again Victorious.

Veterans of the Greek American Athletic Club captured first honors in the five and one-half mile road run held by the Greek American A. C. last night. S. Glanopoulos, unattached, gave the victor a hard fight for first place, finishing but eight yards behind Veterans.

Riverdale Bewilders Yonkers.

The Riverdale Country School easily defeated the Yonkers High School at soccer football by a score of 8 to 3 at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday. Riverdale's teamwork and accurate passing completely bewildered their opponents.

Williams-Campbell Beat Off.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 14.—Too many Eastern engagements was the excuse offered by the manager of Kid Williams, Baltimore banister, for cancelling a bout with the Yonkers High School at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday.

HORSE SHOW OPENS IN BLAZE OF GLORY

Designer Goes Back to Early Roman Period for Idea in Decorative Scheme.

FIRST CARD ATTRACTIVE

Jumping Events Carded for Both Afternoon and Evening Performances.

Boots and saddles will sound in the Madison Square Garden at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the twenty-ninth annual exhibition of the National Horse Show Association will be formally opened.

From that time until late Saturday night the fine horses that have been entered to compete for the $10,000 worth of prizes offered by the association and by several lovers of the horse will parade before the judges.

The state in the basement of the Garden were all filled last night. Nearly all the out of town exhibitors have arrived and the many annexes rented for the week to accommodate the 750 horses entered in the show are now filled with more than a hundred thousands of dollars.

The Garden this year will surprise many who have seen it on former occasions. C. H. Kramer, who designed the decorations, has gone back 2,000 years in history and chosen the Roman period for his transformation. The Garden represents the interior of a Roman amphitheatre and represents a period when thousands of Romans used to gather in the first known horse shows and cheer the chariot races. The homey riders in the roof of the Garden have been replaced by a sky of blue and this is edged with a conventional border of Marshal Nell rose yellow. The gallery and balconies are edged with curtains of unyx supported by columns of bronze and the floor is faced with a marble wall and at the Madison avenue end is the members' box made to represent the box of the Roman emperor.

This is decorated suitably and over this hangs a canopy of crimson cloth heavily fringed with bullion. This canopy is supported by staves of gold surmounted by Roman eagles.

Many of the exhibitors visited the Garden during the afternoon and the foreign army officers were particularly interested in the arrangements of the jumps. Frank T. Clark, the superintendent, has taken great care in arranging these jumps this year and everything possible has been done to make the bars as distinctive as possible so that they will easily catch the eyes of the horses.

The first class to be judged to-day will be for novice harness horses. There are fourteen entered. Shetland ponies, novice saddle horses, trotters in harness, ponies under saddle, children's ponies, pairs of harness horses, ladies saddle horses, ladies to ride, and ponies in harness, children to drive, will be the afternoon features. The other will come in the afternoon and the jumps will be in the afternoon and the thirty-nine men will wind up the evening show.

In the evening in addition to the jumps there will be pairs in harness, saddle horses, harness horses, ladies' saddle horses and tandems.

President Alfred G. Vandebilt and many other officials of the association will have luncheon parties in the club-room before the show opens. Later in the afternoon teas will be served there. The club-room is one of a feature this year than ever before.

DENVER MEETS OAKLAND BOY.

Nathan Straus's Great Trotter Will Race at Speedway To-morrow.

There will be sport aplenty in the last official racing meeting of the fall season, which will be held at the Speedway tomorrow, starting at 1:30 P. M. Thirteen harness races are on the card, and many of the horses that have done sterling work throughout the season are on the card.

One of the features will be a special match race between Denver, Nathan Straus's famous trotter and Oakland Boy. Another race that is attracting much of attention is one in the championship class for double A trotters. Eva Taunany, Earl Maiden, Belle Isle and Vermont Bell will be on the starting line for this contest.

BLIND HANDICAP COUNTS.

Mackey, With Five Minutes, Wins Third Van Amringe Run.

R. L. Mackey, 15, with a blind handicap of 5 minutes, won the third run for the Van Amringe trophy yesterday over the South Field, Riverside Drive and Morningstar, in a race of 1 1/2 miles. Mackey, 35 minutes 11 seconds. Capt. Ernie Slade, with 2 1/2 minutes, was second, and Glenn third. The order of finish:
